

Reliable. Durable. Sustainable.

2025 EEA Conference

This year's EEA (Electrical Engineers Association) Conference was again held in Christchurch in September. The NZI team always appreciates the opportunity to meet and talk with stakeholders in the New Zealand electrical industry. Our exhibition stand showcased our manufacturing process and some of our NZI products along with historical images showing our proud 100+ year history.

How does NZI make insulators?

New Zealand Insulators has been manufacturing porcelain insulators in Temuka South Canterbury for the New Zealand and many global markets since 1924.

Yes, that's more than 100 years.

Our ongoing focus is to support our customers and the industry with sustainably manufactured, quality porcelain and electrical fittings. All NZI porcelain carries our manufacturer's 25 year warranty and is 100% recyclable in New Zealand.

New Zealand made NZI porcelain is a great "total value proposition" for the sourcing of quality insulators and provides a sustainable environmental, total lifecycle solution which can't be replicated by any other insulator supplier in New Zealand. Along with this, of course, every NZI insulator is tested mechanically or electrically.

NZI continues to invest in the NZI brand and reinvigorate and invest in our Temuka factory, to make sure NZI retains the local manufacturing capability. Please be assured that only products manufactured in Temuka, South Canterbury carry the NZI badge.

Our NZI range is complemented by reputable agencies which allows us to provide outstanding service and innovation.
